Quantum Development Laboratory

High-risk experiment result in cloaking devices. Fighters traveling from the lab remain undetectable for part of the travel distance. The DSS ability can decloak these fighters.

Level Upgrades

- 1) 50% distance is cloaked
- 2) 60% distance is cloaked
- 3) 70% distance is cloaked

UNLOCKS

Doomsday Device

Defensive lightspeed projectiles rip apart enemies. Destroy a portion of fighters per fleet that enter the Doomsday. Can be destroyed by the EPIM. Cost increases with level-up. Targets friendly planet/starbase without an orbital.

- 1) Destroy 50F, per fleet
- 2) Destroy 100F, per fleet
- 3) Destroy 150F, per fleet

Exo-Planetary Ion Missile (EPIM)

Flux Ion radiation blasts against turrets (T), fighters (F), and disables orbitals. Destroys Doomsday Device. Destroyed by Stryker Missiles or higher level GPA orbital. Drag from a friendly planet to an in-range enemy planet.

- 1) Destroys 15F, 1T
- 2) Destroys 20F, 2T
- 3) Destroys 35F, 3T, - Destroys Orbitals

Faster Than Light Travel

Fold space-time to warp a percentage of your fighters to a friendly planet with an orbital. Targets friendly planet or starbase that has an orbital.

- 1) Summon 30% of fighters
- 2) Summon 40% of fighters
- 3) Summon 50% of fighters

Stryker Missile

Stryker missiles destroys enemies caught in its blast radius. Only affects fighters and missiles. Drag from source planet to any free space within travel range.

- 1) Destroy 10F, small radius
- 2) Destroy 15F, med. radius
- 3) Destroy 20F, large radius

Don't even waste your $0.99 on this game.

Looks like a Rhythm game right? Not really.

It's more "hold the correct button" with no real need of timing. Hold the button early, you're all good. Granted most of the game requires you to just switch from one to the other without much gap in between, but don't worry about actually hitting the "note" when it gets to the center perfectly. Even if you do, you don't get any extra points. No "Excellents" or "Greats" here.

About those "notes." You can't really call them that, because I'm hard pressed to find any kind of correlation between the notes on screen, or even their spacing/timing, and the song for each "level." It's essentially "Press buttons while a random song plays in the background."

22 minutes is all it took to make sure I had every achievement (5 star every level). Apparently I got so good at the game in that time that it reported my rank for level 5 as 1st place. Take that 3 other people that opened this game!

Avoid.. I want to start this as saying I am ABSOLUTLY a fan of this game, as well as the 1st one. This one has some really neat mechanics in it, and it was fun playing it. But after 10 hours, I am feeling completely unfulfilled.

WHile there are a few mechanics I really like, such as the ladder truck, or the tender trucks, there is also a lot of depth missing, that was in the 1st one. There is little to know customization like in the 1st one. The firehouse is basically pointless, as you cannot do anything in it, like the original.

I feel like a mix of the 2 would be best, but this is what we have.

Like I said, I had fun playing this game, but I'm done, after 10 hours. There is no reason to keep playing. I own all the trucks, all my slots are full, and I'm in the 60's for dispatched.. While not so much a game as a digitized Choose Your Own Adventure book, (which is what it bills itself as anyway) To Be Or Not To Be is certainly hilarious. I wouldn't have thought so initially, but the story of Hamlet really is improved with the inclusion of ghost marine biologists.. <https://youtu.be/t-yuVfP20OU>

The simulation of day to day newspaper work is a difficult theme to use when trying to hook players on the narrative. In this case, the theme works but the mechanics suffer greatly due to the delayed reaction for feedback. It's never exactly clear what actions are leading to witch consequences, making each day more guess work than meaningful choices.. Uh, wow. This is less than half\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665 I could have used that $0.20 for something good like a ketchup packet or something.

Very nice software to create non-pixel art pixel art. Have a lot of possibilities.

If you do game art this program can create some interesting thing and a unique look to your pixel graphics.. Very nice remake! I play in older version and I like steam-version!

Nice music.

Nice gameplay

Good idea with integration steam-workshop.

. Great game, highly recommended!. Nostalgia attack! I played this game lots when I was a kid and I barely could pass level 30. There are 150 levels of hard hardcore old-school puzzles!

Made a mistake? Restart level! Again and again and again!. If you're looking for an arcade style fun motorcycle - motocross or ATV type game like I was this might be it. Think Excitebike meets the original Manx TT and even elements of Burnout dodging traffic at high speed that's the feeling it gives me. Great fun!. Pretty bad game, no instructions, no matter what I do I keep getting nuked before getting past the first 3 seconds.

Considering I only pay 1$USD, I consider I should be paid for trying out a game where the developers didn't even try.
